The Governor's Veto.

A message was received from the governor, by his private secretary, with his veto of the bill amending the code in relation to the appointment of the directors of the two hospitals for the insane. Following are extracts from the message:

the directors of the two hospitals for the Insane. Following are extracts from the message:
Gentlemen of the House of Delegates:
-I return house bill No. 19, entitled "An Act to Amend and Re-enact section two of chapter fifty-eight of the Code of West Virginia, relating to insane persons," without my approxist and do accordingly veto the same. This bill legislates out of office the prompt hoards of directors of the Weston and Epencer asylums. This action cannot be justified on any good principle of dyll government. It is contrary to the policy which the last Republican legislature laid down, when it appointed these asylums. Both of them are conducted upon the highest plant no scandal hangs around them; on every side is universal commendation of their management. The management has been patriotic, economical, careful and intelligent, and these two institutions rank among the best in this country. I appeal to the four reports of Republican committees to both Republican legislatures for justification of these statements."

The governor then quotes from the reports of the visiting committees in which the management of the Weston hospital are highly commended. Continuing, he said: "I ask, then in regard to the Weston asylum, in view of the reports of the Republican committees to the Republican inglistatures, what justification can there be for the passage of this act? If there was any shadow of question as to the efficiency of management, then, there would be at least some justification for this act, but there is none pretended. But the reports of the Weston asylum are equalled only by the commendation of the two Republican committees of the Spencer asylum."

He then quotes from the reports of the two Republican committees of the Spencer asylum at the present and former terms of the legislature in which the management of that institution is commended: "These reports," the governor says, "were unanimously adopted and reflected the sentiment, not alone of the legislatures, but of the whole people, as to the management of these institutions. I do not believe that the people will justify the absolute change of the management of these two most important institutions, for the mere purpose of changing the political complexion of the boards or employes."

The message was laid on the table, to be taken up to-morrow.

House bill No. 13, relating to the military force of the state, was made the special order for to-morrow at 10:30. The house then adjourned.

THE BANK WRECKS.

St. Louis Globe Democrat.—The sus-

St. Louis Globe Democrat.—The suspension of one of the large banks (the National Bank of Illinois) and three small ones in Chicago, and that of a big one (the Bank of Minnesota) and a little one in St. Paul will create some uneasiness in financial and business circles throughout the country, but the situation need not arouse alarm. The "run" in Chicago on snother bank is just what might have been expected under the circumstances. Still this ended after a few hours' duration. Probably a good deal of money will be temporarily withdrawn from St. Paulbanis, too, but there is no present reason to suppose that further serious damage will be done.

Of course, the prolonged period of depression is the primary cause of these wrecks, but the weakness which this condition brought was materially intensified in the case of the litiat and largest of these failures, that of the Illinois National, by long continued bad management on the part of its officers. It is hardly necessary to say that this might be fatal to a bank or any other sort of business institution in the best of times. A very large part of the business mortality of ordinary years is due to this very cause. Unbappily, some of the Illinois National's irregularities seem to have evaded the bank examiner at the time of his inspection of its accounts, which raises a ausgicion that bank examinations do not always examine.

But there is nothing in these wrecks which varrants any serious distrust.

But there is nothing in these wrecks which warrants any serious distrust. Undoubtedly the great majority of the Undoubtedly the great majority of the banks in Chicago and St. Paul are solid and safe, and nothing would endanger them except a "run" on them by depositors, a stupidity which is decidedly improbable. Outside of those two points, no fear is felt. Two things, however, should be insisted upon by the people—that this senseless and misclevous wartalk in congress be stopped immediately, and that the new congress be called in session to pass a tariff and revenue bill and end the industral uncertainty at the earliest possible day. Meanwhile it is the duty of the public to be calm and look on the bright side of things.

There is always more or less suspicion attached to anything that is offered free but sometimes a man so overflows with generosity that he cannot rest until his discovery is known to the world, in order that his fellow men may profit by what he has discovered. It is upon this principle that a resident of Kalamazoo, Mich., desires to send free to mankind a prescription which will cure them of any form of nervous cebility; relieves them of all the doubt and uncertainty which such men are peculiarly liable to and restores the organs to natural size and vizor. As it costs nothing to try the experiment it would seem that any man, suffering with the nervous troubes that usually attack men who never stopped to realize what might be the final result, ought to be deeply interested in a remedy which will restore them to health, strength and vizor, without which they continue to live an existence of untold misery. As the remedy in question was the result of many years research as to what combination would be peculiarly effective in restoring to men the strength and next on the continue to H. C. The prescription is sent free and al-bouch some may wonder how Mr. Olds spencer asylums. This action cannot be justified on any good principle of civil government. It is contrary to the policy which the last Republican legislature laid down, when it appointed son-partisan boards to control the two insane asylums. There was a larger volume of trading on the stock exchange to-day than for a good many days. The activity was practically confined, too, to the first few minutes after the opening when the whole list turned downward, and to the last hour, which saw a smarrally and generally net gains on the day's transactions. The slump in prices at the opening was wholly due to the influence of the panicky condition of mind reported on the continental bourses, and to the fall of consols and other securities in London. American securities were affected in London along with others, and the opening prices here were on a level with London. The opening of hostilities reported to have occurred between Greece and Turkey indicated to the minds of traders that an embroilment of the European powers was an inevitable consequence and they sold accordingly. London also was selling in this market at the opening. Although the selling movement lasted only a few minutes after the opening the industrials and the international stocks all registered material declines, while it lasted. Thus sugar fell in price, % per cent. Chaleco, % per cent, Chleago Gas, 1 per cent General Electric, 1½ per cent. Of the railway list, the international stocks were most notably affected by the early decline. The volume of sales fell off at the lowest level and a period of stagnation ensued, quotations only being registered at long intervals. It was not until the closing hour that the raily set in which proved more general and animated than any movement of stocks for many days and which carried the average price of securities to the highest of the day. The raily was doubtless due, for the most part, to the more favorable aspect of affairs in Europe. London bought quite heavily and a general tone of assurance and confidence pervaded the market. The best kind of encouragement from Liverpool and London, for although Saturday marked the biggest break of the month in prices here, in Liverpool had advanced %d before the opening of the regular board due, of course, to the disturbed foreign political situation. The drop in British Consols of 1 per cent showed how serious, the state of affairs was regarded for fluctuations as a rule are in fractions of 1-16c. Some of the strength at the opening was also based on the small world's shipments of last week. The price immediately advanced to 75%c, but the feeling was not all one way. Shorts were seared into covering, but at the same time holders welcomed the temporary strength to market their lines. The price got down to 74%c after an hour and a half of severe pounding, but the purine 50 down to 74%c after an hour and a half of severe pounding, but the purines of thort wheat to produce the latter result. The effect of that was quickly felt when the short sellers had put out as much as they dared and then they tried to buy it back. A gradual rise to 74%c took place and a very rapid advance of more than another cent so that about 12 o'clock the previous sellers were the most anxious buyers at around 75%c and before they got enough to satisfy them for the time being, the price got to 75%c for an instant, a trifle over two cents' advance from the close Saturday.

The world's shipments amounted to 35%c, active realizing and short selling caused a reaction to 75%c, which was quickly succeeded by another advance to 75%c. The closing was firm at 75% by the form. The market for oats was firm and active all day. Buying orders were plentiful at the start and prices advanced. They broke when wheat made its one cent decline, but railled again quickly. Shorts were the best buyers, the influences as in the case of wheat being the war scare. The visible supply increased 170,000 bushels. May opened ½c higher at 17½c, sold a shade higher, declined to 167%fl7c, then railled to 11½c, where it closed. Provisions were much firmer, pork leading in the advance. Dry Goods.

NEW YORK—In consequence of the very large number of buvers in the market the jobbing trade disclosed a very much greater inquiry that was succeeded by considerable business which promises large sales for the week. For regular printing cloths the market was quiet but firm at 211-16c. Among commission houses the personal demand generally was on a more moderate scale, but the order request was very much better, though individual requirements were for such assortments as were actually necessary to meet the demand at hand.
